You will also catch a glimpse of one of the most exclusive resorts or "the landmark in South East Asia- The Trisara," as well as the world- famous Blue Canyon Golf Course. This will be an experience even your children will enjoy and cherish for a lifetime.

2) Unforgettable side of Phuket / approximate 30 Minutes

Your brief Flight itinerary:

Heliport – National Park Nai Thon – Bang Tao 5-Star Laguna – Millionaires' Mile, Phuket's Dream Villas – Sin City Patong – Kata & Karon Beach – Dramatic Promthep Cape: Phuket's southernmost point – circling around the 46m high Big Buddha – famous Chalong Temple – Red Mountain: a former tin mine turned into a golf course.

Detailed Tour Description:

Let us invite you on a journey soaring over the “Pearl of the South.” Now you and your guests can enjoy the grand spectacle of Phuket Island like never before. Your Phuket journey begins at the Phuket heliport located in Sa Khu, Nai Yang beach, just minutes from the Phuket International Airport.

Just after liftoff, you'll pass Nai Thon beach before encircling the “Millionaires' Mile,” home to the millionaires of Phuket. From there, your captain will take you along the coast of Layan and Bang Tao beach before jumping over to Surin and Kamala beach. From Kamala beach, you will head over to Kalim and cruise along the coast of Patong beach at a lower altitude. Viewing Patong beach from the air is exciting in itself, but peering down on someone parasailing is a whole new angle of this sport, that you may have never seen before.

Next, we'll hop over to gaze at the beautiful bays and white sand beaches of Karon, Kata, and Kata Noi. Upon this advancement, you'll get a glimpse of the “half-moon” bay of Nai Harn beach. At the southern tip of Phuket, you'll have the opportunity to observe Phrom Thep Cape like never before. This romantic sunset hotspot is a must see destination, as busloads of visitors gather to watch the sun slowly kissing the ocean.

Our flight then takes you atop the “Big Buddha,” encircling this magnificent piece of artwork. This Phra Puttamingmongkol Akenakkiri Buddha – to give it its official name, will be one of the best photo opportunities ever. This Buddha statue, 45 meters high and 25 meters wide, hence the “Big Buddha,” was built entirely off of donations.

While your mind is still revolving around this grand monument, your pilot will cruise over the Chalong temple or “Wat Chalong,” the 29th and one of the most ornate Buddhist temples on Phuket Island. The temple was dedicated to two highly revered monks, Luang Pho Chaem and Luang Pho Chuang since 1876. It now stands as one of the “must see” locations for visitors of Phuket.

Your journey continues with Phuket’s newest hilly golf course, Red Mountain Golf Course, officially launched July 2009. You may notice different elevations for this golf course, with cliffs and canyons, which makes it one of the new challenges for golfers on Phuket Island. Looking ahead, you’ll notice a structure that resembles medieval architecture or a castle from afar, The British International School, Phuket. This is a well established international educational institution, which is absolutely marvelous to see from the sky. Here you will have a glimpse over the Royal Phuket Marina, overshadowed by the beautiful Phang Nga bay.

Your captain will breeze through Phuket’s tropical rainforest heading directly back to the Phuket heliport. On this last stretch, you’ll get a glimpse of how the local Thai live along with the plantations of the Thalung district.

3) Phang Nga Helicopter Tour / approximate 30 Minutes

Flight itinerary:

Heliport – immense mangrove tree coasts – shrimp farms – magnificent limestone – fly over, through, and around dramatic rock formations – secluded beaches – the secret lagoon – James Bond Island – coastal jungles – floating Muslim Village – Blue Canyon Golf Course.

Detailed Tour Description:

Ready for a journey of a lifetime? Have your cameras ready because we're going to take you on a voyage to nature's hidden beauty. Only a few have the fortune to absorb this magnificent creation of nature. Now it's your opportunity to appreciate what was once thought of as, "only for the privileged" in discovering Phang Nga's majestic limestone cliffs flourished graciously amid the emerald bay of the Andaman Sea.

Your odyssey will commence from Phuket heliport, crossing over from Phuket directly to Phang Nga, where you will start to see the lush vegetation, mangrove trees, small villages, and shrimp farms dispersed across the region. Once you begin to pass those regions, you'll encounter these extraordinary limestone rock formations, as we cruise alongside them. You will also notice a floating village from afar, and as you approach, you'll see Phang Nga's famous Koh Panyi or "Muslim floating village." We'll then circle around this village, for you to capture this moment and see how man and nature coexist gracefully.

Nature has its ability to astonish the advent explorer as we approach Khao Tapu, which means “Nail Mountain” or more like “Nail Island.” A more familiar name would be “James Bond Island,” made famous by the movie “Man with the Golden Gun.” The actual main island is Koh Ping Kan, which means “leaning on each other island.” This is named after the limestone, which is split in two and the one half is leaning against the other. Now you are headed over to the kayaking island of Phang Nga Bay, where you will cross over the secret lagoon, hidden within the limestone island itself. From the secret lagoon of Phang Nga, we head straight back to the Phuket heliport for your safe return and you can decide to enjoy our Phuket adventure.
